THE GAL FROM HAZEL GREEN.

"NOT if you seriously object. But we'll settle that tomorrow night."
 "I'll hev a call ter settle Jim hisself tomorry night, stid o' hangin' roun' hyar, jawin' 'bout'n parties an' sech."

Millie fairly screamed. Jack was red-faced and angry. But Kate poured oil on the troubled waters and explained that Jim would stay at home for at least a week. "He's my prisoner," she said, "till I turn him loose; and that time depends very much upon yourself."

Jack was befuddled. He half believed himself bewitched. To put him more at ease Kate brought out a box of camera views she had taken in and about Hazel Green.
 It was a skillful move, and when he left it had been arranged that she should teach him photography as well as penmanship. That night was the turning point in Jack Simpson's life. He had caught a glimpse of the great world and longed for a closer view. He realized to some extent his ignorance and awkwardness and resolved to overcome them. The next evening he threw himself into the lesson with intensity and purpose. Beads of perspiration glistened on his face and hands and he breathed fast and hard. Never had he been on such a strain. At the close of the long lesson the party was discussed and Kate ventured to insist a little that Becky's intended should not be slighted. "It might hurt her feelings, you know," she said.

"I can't understand why yer so concerned about'n Becky. She haint no kin ter ye."
 "Well, she's a girl and so am I;
 and she's in trouble and I know what trouble is."
 "Is yourn like hern?"
 "Not precisely. But they're both caused by this wicked Simpson-Sutton feud."

Jack sprang to his feet, but Kate bade him sit down and listen.
 "I had a brother once," she said,
 "as dear and manly a boy as ever lived. He had worked hard in the academy, fitting himself for teaching, and was on the train going to his school when he was shot. The man that shot him was a Simpson.
 He aimed at a Sutton who occupied the seat in front of my brother Joe, whom he killed instead."

A strange pallor crept over Jack's face, but she continued: "My mother was sick at the time and when the dreadful news reached her she swooned away and never was conscious again. My father had died two years before, and now I was left alone in the world. Not alone, either, for I had found a friend that is more than father or mother, sister or brother; and Prof. Ford and others held me up and sheltered me till the storm had passed over and the sun was shining again. I spoke of a sweet friend I had found. When Joe and mother were gone I asked Him to take me, too. But He had work for me to do; and so I am here trying to do it."

"That air the strangest story I've ever hearn," said Jack, drawing the back of his hand across his eyes. "Ef I'd a knowed it war your brother Buck shot, I'd a been afeard o' ye. But I haint now.
 Ye don't seem ter want ter mek up fur it ner hev no grudge agin nobody."
 "It's already made up for by that dear friend that died for all of us."
 "But he wa'n't a Simpson ner no kin to 'em. Et looks like ye orto kill some of we-uns."

"What good could that do? It wouldn't bring Joe back to me, nor please Him. He wants this great black, ugly blot on the face of our beloved Kentucky wiped off until not a trace of it is left. He doesn't want to be avenged. He does want this wicked feud stopped."

"Et air hard to understand. Et air new ter me. I've never hearn nobody talk that way afore."

MOTHERHOOD

The greatest ambition of American men and women is to have homes blessed with children. The woman afflicted with female disease is constantly menaced with becoming a childless wife. No medicine can restore dead organs, but Wine of Cardui does regulate derangements that prevent conception; does prevent miscarriage; does restore weak functions and shattered nerves and does bring babies to homes barren and desolate for years.
 Wine of Cardui gives women the health and strength to bear healthy children. You can get a dollar bottle of Wine of Cardui from your dealer.

 In February, 1901, I took one bottle of Wine of Cardui and one package of married fifteen years and had never given birth to a child until I took Wine baby girl which was born March 21, 1902.

 The baby weighs fourteen pounds and feel as well as any person could feel.
 Now my home is happy and I never will ship was highly satisfactory to both teacher and pupil. Arrangements for the party had been completed, and the next evening the great event of the season was to occur. Everybody knew that both Simpsons and Suttons would be there and everybody said, "There'll be trouble an' shootin' shore." But everybody was mistaken. There was no shooting and no one was hurt. Most of the young bloods went armed; and at first the house was divided, each side making faces at the other. But this was soon broken up, and all were having as good a time as if factions and feuds had never been known. Jack was happy. He had worked for the party, and Kate made him feel that it was his as much as her own. Millie and Becky were "partners," too, and even Jim Sutton had a share; while Kate moved among them, bright, rosy, radiant with smiles and laughter, and before the party broke up she had won the whole crowd.

Among her hard-earned possessions was a small stereopticon and a good-sized package of valuable slides, the exhibition of which was the crowning achievement of the evening, and a complete surprise to all but Mrs. Brown and Millie.

Oil for the Children.

Give them oil—cod-liver oil.

It's curious to see the result.
 Give it to the peevish, fretful child, and he laughs. Give it to the pale, anæmic child, and his face becomes rosy and full of health. Take a flat-chested child, or a child that has stopped growing, give him the oil, and he will grow big and strong like the rest.

This is not a new scheme.
 It has been done for years.
 Of course you must use the

The first view thrown on the canvas was the pretty village of Hazel Green, nestled among its green hills and picturesque scenery; and Kate lovingly pointed out the little church and the academy, both of which had done so much for her. Then followed Torrent, with its natural amphitheater and beautiful, veil-like waterfall; the Red River canyon, rich in castles and towers and vine-covered ruins; and a wonderful bridge of nature's own construction, spanning a deep precipice high up among the mountains.

"Every rock and flower and waterfall and stream I've shown you," said Kate, belongs to our own beloved mountains of Kentucky.
 Bad Mountain is only one little spot in all this wonderland. Now, I'm going to take you out of the mountains for just a peep at the far-famed Blue Grass Country. So here we have Lexington, beautiful country."

"Oh!" "Ah!" were the exclamations from all sides. Not one in that little audience had ever dreamed that such a city stood so near, on their own sacred soil. Mt. Sterling and other cities and beautiful country-seats followed.

All Had Warmed Their Feet.

In his oleomargarine speech Senator Dolliver told of an incident that occurred when President McKinley made his trip to the Northwest to receive a returning regiment of volunteers who had been to the Philippines.

The special train was speeding across Iowa. All the members of the cabinet and a number of senators, representatives and governors were in the observation car. President McKinley looked out of the window and saw two boys warming their feet on a place where a cow had been lying all night. The president chuckled and said:

"Gentlemen, do you know that one of the most delightful recollections of my boyhood is the solid comfort of the experience those boys are now having warming frostbitten feet in the place where cows have been lying down."

"Turning to the company," Mr.
 Dolliver continued, "President McKinley said:

"I wonder how many of you here have had the same experience?"

"Every member of the party, beginning with Hay, who did his foot-warming partly in Ohio and partly in Indiana, to Secretary Wilson, who did his in the heather in Scotland, testified to the delights of the practice."

A Profitable Investment.

"I was troubled for about seven years with my stomach and in bed half my time," says E. Demick, Somerville, Ind., "I spent about $1,000 and never could get any thing to help me until I tried Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I have taken a few bottles and am entirely well."
 You don't live by what you eat, but by what you digest and assimilate. If your stomach doesn't digest your food you are really starving. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does the stomach's work by digesting the food. You don't have to diet; eat all you want. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure cures all stomach troubles.

 young physician.

"Yes," answered the other, "I thought for a little while it was going to be one of the prettiest cases of appendicitis that ever happened. But prompt and careful treatment brought him around and I missed a chance for a fine operation. I didn't know it was possible for a man to feel so glad and so disappointed both at once."

Weak?

"I suffered terribly and was extremely weak for 12 years. The doctors said my blood was all turning to water. At last I tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and was soon feeling all right again."

Product of One Potato.

An interesting agricultural item printed in the London Times is as follows:

"A Mr. Vacher, of Heckford farm, near Poole, last year planted one potato, which produced him 335 in number, and there would have been still more had not a boy lost one of the eyes after the potato was cut in pieces. The farmer, having saved the whole of them, had them planted, and he has now dug the crop, and finds they have multiplied to the number of 9236, and weigh 13 cwt., 3 qrs., which certainly is a very great increase from one single tuber in two years."

GREAT WEEKLY

SPENCER COOPER, : : : Editor.

HAZEL GREEN, KY.
THURSDAY, April 10, 1902.

JUDGE WHEELER will in a few days begin leasing lands for the purpose of boring for oil, gas, etc. The company for whom he is working is C. D. Swinn & Co., and they are backed by Eastern capitalists. The terms upon which they lease should induce every land owner in this section to grant leases. They take lease for three years, during which time they will sink a well, or failing to do so they pay 10 cents per acre for land under lease. Where they find oil they give 10 per cent of the product, which they put in tank or pipe to market, and they pay all and every expense. If it be gas they pay $100 per year for each well as long as it produces. Now, there are thousands of acres of land in this country that may thus be made to pay a good profit. The oil company does not disturb any growing crop or if need be they pay well for it. There can be no doubt but we are in the oil belt, and the first well sunk in the town of Hazel Green will prove this and be a revelation to our people. Today, as it were, we are in poverty, and tomorrow should we be fortunate enough to own an oil well we will be independent. Our people should urge the importance of sinking a few wells at once, and the company that will undertake to do this can secure leases without trouble. We are impatient to see the movement inaugurated because we feel that the country will be prospering just from the moment the first well is sunk. It is like a man with a fortune locked up in a safe and the combination to the lock lost. He knows the wealth is there and that he can get it as soon as he finds the combination. We know we have the oil but until a well is sunk to bring it up it is of no use to us. We hope to see a hundred wells sunk in this vicinity within the next 12 months, and mark the prediction: Whenever they begin sinking wells the eyes of the world will be turned to Eastern Kentucky as the richest oil field yet discovered. Let the good work proceed, and God speed the day that one well, at least, shall reach 1,000 to 1,500 feet below the surface here in Hazel Green. We have the spot in our mind and will take pleasure in pointing it to the first prospective driller.

The height of absurdity would seem to have been reached when the attorney general was asked to render an opinion as to whether club women can constitutionally discriminate on account of color. It has always been our idea that a club was a private affair and that its members could and did discriminate against anybody and for any reason that they pleased, even casting blackballs for no reason at all save individual aversion or prejudice.

Commissioner Evans will lose his job, but it must be as comforting to him as it is irritating to the pension ring that has hounded him to know that Mr. Roosevelt has declared that the Evans policy shall be continued by the new head of the pension bureau.

Teddy has changed his mind about kicking Terry Powderly out of a job. As soon as he learned that Terry still had a pull he announced that it was his intention to give him "something just as good" as his present place.

If Senator Burton acts upon the request of those Kansas G. A. R. men and protests to the president against the promotion of Pension Commissioner Evans, he will establish a new record for meddling impudence.

The hotter the tariff war now being waged by republican newspapers gets the more democrats will be elected to the next house.

The famous battlefield at Busaco, Portugal, where the Duke of Wellington licked the French army in 1810, has been turned into golf links. Portugal would seem to be in need of a society for the preservation of historic places.

The Panama lobby doubtless stands ready to contribute several millions to a Hanna campaign fund if Hanna can succeed in his efforts to head off the Nicaragua canal bill in the senate.

Is it because he is such a bitter anti-states' rights man, or because the scheme can be better manipulated by the republican bosses under Federal control that Mr. Roosevelt opposes state control of irrigation canals?

ADNER MCKINLEY might stop riding around in private parlor cars long enough to answer a few questions asked by the congressional committee that is investigating the Capt. Christmas bribery story.

It will require some time for the country to get accustomed to the republican theory that the commander of the army has no business to have or express opinions on military matters.

HANNA has been again denying that he is a candidate for the presidency. Of course, he isn't; it is only an amateur, like Teddy, who would acknowledge his candidacy this far ahead.

Now that King Eddy has decided to pay for a coronation dinner to the poor of London, his personal creditors are hoping to get some cash from the same source.

THE Hatfields are still killing revenue officers, in the mountains of Pike county, Ky., and getting killed. The last engagement resulted in two dead on each side.

TEDDY and Speaker Henderson are said to have formed a trust to hold up in the house such legislation as they do not approve until after the congressional election.

So THE convicted Cuban postal thieves are expecting help from Washington. This is not surprising, but it would be very surprising if they got it.

W. W. Astor's London paper says America has no use for gentlemen. If it had added "of the W. W. Astor stripe," it would have stated a fact.

SECRETARY LONG has made a bid for the prohibition vote by coming out in favor of the christening of warships with water instead of wine.

THE Lexington, Ky., grand jury charges the investment or debenture companies with embezzlement and fraud of other sorts.

GEN. FRED. FUNSTON should not forget that there are yellow army officers as well as yellow journalists.

People Fool Themselves.
A great many people fool themselves in the course of their lives. They think they can go on working incessantly with hand and brain and not come to the need of medicine.

They find they can't.
And then many of them fool themselves again by accepting a substitute for Hood's Sarsaparilla, which is by far the best medicine we know of for restoring health and strength and building up the whole system.

Chrysanthemum Growing for Gain
The chrysanthemum ranks third as a commercial flower, following the rose and carnation preceding in the order named. It possesses this advantage, however, that while first class roses and carnations, long-stemmed and luxuriant, can be grown only with greenhouse facilities, the chrysanthemum under ordinary conditions, with properly directed and systematic culture, yields a profusion and perfection of bloom that can be surpassed only by the efforts of the expert professional. The May Delineator makes an interesting reference to the commercial value of this flower and indicates the methods by which it is best propagated.

Hazel Green has perhaps the best banjo picker in Kentucky in the person of John Baker, a colored citizen who dropped in from the state of Virginia, his native place being Henry county. The remarkable feature of his playing is that he brings out every note as on a violin, whereas banjo performers as a general thing drop many of the minor notes. He recently purchased the banjo made by Mr. Ferguson, an account of which was published some weeks since, and he now delights the village with impromptu concerts. Listening to the enchanting strains of his music makes one forget the cares and sorrows, and dreams of that happier and better land hold sway for the time.

Wm. F. Baker, representing the wholesale dry goods and notion house of Guggenheimer & Co., Lynchburg, Va., interviewed our merchants Wednesday. On Tuesday he sold a nice bill to S. C. Alexander of Daysboro, and he tells us that he is fast picking up the trade of Uncle Ike Hartfield, whom he succeeded in this territory. Mr. Baker appears to be a nice man, and we bespeak for him a fair share of the business.

Burglars entered the store of Cecil Bros. on Wednesday night last and stole some 20 or 30 coppers, a lot of chewing gum, some raisins and a few packages of Duke's mixture smoking tobacco. The character of the goods taken indicates that the thieves were juveniles and juniors even of that class. But there is no clue to lead to who they were.

THE SOUTH'S LITERARY WEEKLY
Published at Atlanta, Ga.—Circulation Over 50,000.

The SUNNY SOUTH is the Great Literary Weekly of the South. It is devoted to Literature, Romance, Fact and Fiction, and gives the best of all that is current in its field. Among its contributors the most noted southern writers appear—Joel Chandler Harris, Harry Stillwell Edwards and others of growing fame. Serial stories from Anthony Hope, Maurice Thompson, Sidney R. Crockett, Mrs. George Corbett and Arthur W. Marchmont have appeared, and others are in waiting from the pen of authors of national note. A short story contest brought out nearly five hundred splendid short stories, all worthy a place in the SUNNY SOUTH's readable columns. Other contests are contemplated that will successfully exploit the ripening field of talent that only needs such fostering to illustrate the wealth that is shy to assert itself.

The SUNNY SOUTH teems with the life of the great south. The genial sunshine warms everything into activity, and the season is never cold enough to check the hand of industry. The paper comes fragrant with the breath of the magnolia and pine, and gives out the very air of the orange, palm and bay. The beauty and pathos, the romance and mystery of the land where the corn stores to the golden sunshine and the cotton whitens in the moonlight, will be given in the well-filled columns of this fascinating weekly.

The subscription price is Only Fifty Cents a year, alike to all persons, agents, newspapers, postmasters and every one else. Clubs of five, accompanied by the full $2.50, entitle the club leader to the paper one year gratis.

Send on a Postal Card the names of six of your neighbors who would appreciate the opportunity to read a copy of The Sunny South, and one sample will be mailed free. You can get your club of five out of these very people.

The SUNNY SOUTH sales over 50,000 American homes now; and during 1902 is sure to be welcomed in fully as many more homes, as the great weekly feast of good things, the Southern Literary Weekly, whose columns for 1902 will be the most readable of all the papers that come to you.

Difficult Digestion

That is dyspepsia. It makes life miserable. Its sufferers eat not because they want to, but simply because they must. They know they are irritable and fretful; but they cannot be otherwise. They complain of a bad taste in the mouth, a tenderness at the pit of the stomach, an uneasy feeling of puffiness, headache, heartburn and what not. The effective remedy, proved by permanent cures of thousands of severe cases, is HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA. HOOD'S PILLS are the best cathartic.

THE HERALD.

Born, to the wife of Dave Jackson of Grassy on Saturday night, the 5th inst., a girl.

Mesdames Roe Nickell of town and Wm. H. Murphy of the Murphy fork paid our office and residence a pleasant call Wednesday afternoon.

BE SURE that your blood is rich and pure. The best blood purifier, enlivener and vitalizer is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Be sure to GET HOOD'S.

Are you making any effort to get the oil men to sink some wells in this vicinity? If not, you should do so at once. The sinking of one well in Hazel Green will inaugurate a new era.

The many friends of Dave Linden will regret to learn that he has been confined to his bed with fistula for the past three weeks. Dr. Center is attending him and thinks he will soon have him up.

Married, at the residence of Wm. Yocum of Morgan county, Sunday afternoon, April 6, Wash Swango of Maytown, and Miss Sarah Ellen Vest of Morgan county. Rev. Mr. Yocum officiating. Bob Motley met them on their way home, and says "they looked like a bunch of smiles."

For Constipation
Take 1 box of Laxative Syrup, an ideal remedy for biliousness, indigestion, and all the ailments of the bowels. It is pleasant to take and perfectly harmless under all circumstances. Price 25c. Sold by J. C. Stamper, Grassy Creek.

Squire Josh Wheeler of Meno-fee county was visiting his son, Judge Wheeler of this place this week, and being asked the news, told "our man about town" that the widow Wheeler had her garden paled in, which implies that he had been at work.

Mrs. Stella Haney, who was the daughter of Willis Carter of Grassy, was found dead in her bed at the residence of her father on Sunday morning last. She was subject to epileptic fits, and it is supposed that she was seized with one during the night and expired without the household being aware of her peril.

Postmaster Caskey says that some one has been attempting to pass cancelled stamps in mailing letters at this office, and warns them that they will be in trouble over it unless they speedily let up on the practice. It is about the pettiest piece of fraud we ever heard of.

The attention of our readers is directed to the new ad of the Racket Store, Lexington. Mr. Purcell advertised with THE HERALD several years ago, when many of our citizens had pleasure in dealing with him, and now that the O. & K. railroad brings us in closer touch they will find his store headquarters for dry goods, notions, &c.

George Frisby, who shot himself some six months ago has been bedfast ever since, and on Monday Dr. Nickell and Center thought it would be necessary to amputate the limb. After an examination they concluded they could save the foot by removing some of the decayed bones of the injured joint, which they did, and they think the operation will result all right.

Judge Davis, with Bettman, Bloom & Co., paid our town a visit Saturday and was the guest of the Day House over Sunday. Judge Davis has been with this firm for the past nine years and that he has rendered satisfaction is evidenced from that fact alone. The judge deserves something politically for his many services, and if the old saw, "All things come to those who wait" be true, he will get his reward in the sweet subsequently. Prospectively he is a candidate for congress.

EXERCISES IN COMPOSITION

Among Pupils Under Prof. Noah Cisco at The Academy.

Walter Perry, age 13 years, Hazel Green academy.

EVERY MAN HAS A DUTY TO PERFORM.

When God made man He made him for a purpose. The kind of work that any one likes to do the best, that is his duty to do that work. The duty which a man has to perform is called his talent. Some men have a talent for farming; it is their duty to farm and to raise grain to help support their nation. Some men have a talent for teaching; it is their duty to teach and fill the pupil's brain with knowledge, so they may be of some benefit in the world. Some men have a talent for preaching; it is their duty to preach, and tell of the great Creator who is mightier than the world. Different men have different duties to perform, and it is every man's duty to perform his talents.

There are some people in the world that do not perform their duty. They are taken around the corner of the saloon, and are persuaded to take a dram. He then gets drunk and does some terrible deed, and is hanged or sent to the pen. This brings great trouble to his parents, and if the heavens ever was sorry, it would be then, to see some brilliant talent who would be of some good in the world go to destruction. This would all be because he did not perform his duty.

When did Noah perform his duty? When he built the ark and saved seed for to spring up a new world.

When did Joseph perform his duty? When he saved the nation of the Jews from starving.

When did Washington perform his duty? When he freed his country.

Any man has performed his duty when he has fulfilled his talent. If every man would perform their duty the world would be perfect.

Myrtle Davis, age 12 years, Hazel Green academy.

EVERY MAN HAS A DUTY TO PERFORM.

This is an important subject—not even men has duties, but women and children; boys and girls in school are trying to perform a duty. But there are other men who do not perform their duty. There is not any man but what has duties to perform and women either. Some people do not perform a perfect duty, but they still bear a high name; and then there are others that perform a perfect duty and no one ever speaks of their name. We should always try to perform a more perfect duty than ever before; we are never too old to perform our better duties. Children, when very young, can perform a duty; then they can be more help in life when they do their duty well. If we all form our duties early in life we will not be wondering why other people do so much. God would not have put us on this beautiful earth if he did not want us to perform a duty. There are people who do not think about what God put us on this beautiful earth for. Boys and girls, we all should not be so dull, but we should learn a lesson and perform our duties while in school. Then when we are called away we can say, I have performed my duty, what more can I do; and when we can not say that we will wish ourself back on earth again, and then it will be too late.

NOTE—Our young friends who are furnishing us with these essays are reminded that if they will take pains in writing them and send to Essay Editor of Comfort, Augusta, Maine, they may secure a prize. The subject this month is "Kindness to Animals," and the contest does not close until the 25th. There are four prizes—$2, $1, 50c and a yearly subscription to Comfort.—Editor.

"He That Any Good Would Win" should be provided with good health and everyone who would have good health should remember that pure, rich blood is the first requisite. Hood's Sarsaparilla, by giving good blood and good health, has helped many a man to success.

J. W. Stamper, who with his wife and child left here eight years ago, and located near Fayetteville, Ark., returned to his native hills about two months since, and about two weeks ago his wife and child followed. He says there are a great many Kentuckians in that section of the state, and especially people who formerly lived in Wolfe, Morgan and other nearby counties.

SWANGO SPRINGS SAYINGS.

Harrison Swango was the guest of R. M. Cecil at Stillwater Sunday.

Mrs. J. F. Cecil of Grassy creek was a pleasant visitor with us a few days of last week.

Mrs. James Lacy of Lacy creek was on this side Sunday looking for a lost dog.

Rush Swango will make another trip to McCausey this week, and says he wishes the roads were better.

Curtis Swango, just home from the Philippines, exchanged greetings with many of his friends in this neighborhood part of last week.

The subtle sounds and smells of spring are upon us at last. She has been some little time in showing her smiling face so full of sunshine, and opening her dreaming eyes laden with the dew drops of summer. How it gladdens the hearts of farmers and they greet her winning ways, with cheery whistle and song; while busily all the day they are making furrows deep and long.

South Arnett of Neola was seen passing through here Sunday on his way to see his best girl up on Rose's fork. Better be careful, South, or some one of Lee City will beat your time.

Quite a number of Lee City's charming young ladies have been seen calling for their mail since Taylor P. Sewell has accepted a position with John T. Graham as assistant postmaster. Taylor is a jovial, good fellow and we are indeed glad to have him with us.

Berna Hoskins, the handsome and clever clerk for J. A. Terrill & Co., called on his best girl Sunday and reports having had a nice time. No doubt but what he will give the same girl a call next Sunday as we infer from his conversation that she is all in all to him.

John T. Graham is attending to some business at Neola this week. He has been appointed postmaster of this place and has recently taken charge of the office, with T. P. Sewell as assistant. John is a kind, genial fellow, a true blue republican, and we think no one can conscientiously say that he did not deserve the official position to which he has aspired.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys are your blood purifiers. They filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle by mail. Write to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

A Great Chance to Secure Exquisite Photographs Free.

The series of "Stage Favorites and People of Note," issued by the Burr McIntosh Studio, has heretofore retailed for $1.00 a piece and all who could obtain them thought them cheap at that price. The Lexington Herald is now, with what seems an extravagant enterprise, giving one of this series every Sunday to every subscriber. It is a great opportunity for any one to secure this series of exquisite photographs by simply subscribing for The Herald, which is $6.00 a year, $8.00 for six months, in advance.

It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. THE SUNNY SOUTH.

This Great Literary Journal Clubbed With The Herald.

We publish, elsewhere today the announcement of the SUNNY SOUTH, the great weekly literary periodical of the Southern States. Published in Atlanta, Ga., in the heart of the great south, it bears upon it the impress of its birth-place and environment. For more than 25 years the SUNNY SOUTH has been a recognized factor in the field of southern literature. It was established more than a quarter of a century ago as a southern story paper, and was published for a long time as a weekly and then as a monthly.

About one year ago the paper passed under new management, and in less than a year it has jumped from a circulation of 12,000 to 60,000. The first thing the new management did was to make it a weekly publication and to reduce the price to fifty cents per year—less than one cent an issue—and then infuse into its columns all the enterprise and literary ability that money could command or determination secure. In less than a year this remarkable southern literary paper has become national in character and it now has about as many subscribers north of Mason and Dixon's line as it has in the south. Its columns abound in the best current literature of characteristic southern flavor, and no literary periodical published anywhere in the country has succeeded in bringing together as many southern writers of note as has been done by the SUNNY SOUTH.

A striking feature of the SUNNY SOUTH's development is its introduction during the past year of many new story writers who will be heard from in the wider field of the world's literature. In almost every southern state new literary talent has been developed to such an extent as to put the whole country to talking about the SUNNY SOUTH. A few months ago the SUNNY SOUTH offered very handsome prizes for a series of the best short stories by southern writers, and more than five hundred responses were received. Some of the stories then published in the SUNNY SOUTH have been reproduced the world over. Others are now being published by it from week to week.

The fact that the price of this splendid weekly literary periodical is only fifty cents a year has had a wonderful effect in giving it an extensive field for the development of its plans and purposes. Perhaps no literary periodical ever established has made such rapid stride as the SUNNY SOUTH in less than a year.

Mrs. Mary E. Bryan, whose name has long been associated with the SUNNY SOUTH, has been engaged to take full charge of its Woman's Department. Her services will appeal especially to women readers throughout the country, as the striking charm of her own personality pervades every column of her most interesting department.

The distinctive characteristics of southern authors have always been a great charm to their readers. The liberal use of matter by the leading magazines of the United States shows that high regard prevalent for southern literary talent. The quaint stories of Joel Chandler Harris in folk-lore of the southern plantations, and the stories by him and by Thomas Nelson Page, Will Y. Harben, Harry Stillwell Edwards and others of those interesting phases of human character so plentiful in the south, are read with consuming interest and are seized upon by publishers with great avidity.

The literary flavor of the SUNNY SOUTH will be far above the ordinary story paper and an examination of one copy will show clearly and plainly to all its scope in its great special field. Some of the most prominent of the world's writers have been listed for special stories for the SUNNY SOUTH during the current year. It is a pleasure to know that the South has at last secured a literary paper of which the whole country is proud.

The SUNNY SOUTH's growing circulation throughout the Union, and in all parts of it alike is an indication of its widespread field. Its fresh, crisp editorials, social stories from authors of the widest note and growing fame and interesting short stories from every quarter make it acceptable everywhere. It is not a newspaper in any sense, but is devoted exclusively to the field of literature. It will come as a refreshing visitor every week to your home for only 50 cents per year. If you have never seen a copy of it send today for it on a postal card addressed to the SUNNY SOUTH, Atlanta, Ga., giving also the names of six of your neighbors and special friends who may also have this treat.

We are pleased to know that Southern enterprise places this paper in the hands of our people.

READ THE TESTIMONY OF TWO WELL KNOWN CITIZENS OF WOLFE.

Mr. Cooper, Hazel Green, Ky.: I purchased some of the Vitae Ore of you in the latter part of March, and after taking about a half pint of the Vitae Ore Elixir my nerves were as steady as when I was 16 years of age, and I am now past 75. For more than a year I had been trying all the patent medicines and nostrums I could hear of to build myself up, but nothing did me any good until I used Vitae Ore, which my wife brought me from your house. After using it a week I went out and did three days' as hard work as I have done in 25 years, and I was not more fatigued than I was 25 years ago over the same work. It is the greatest medicine in the world, and I want everybody in the mountains to know what it did for me so they may try it. Hoping every one who has that tired feeling incident to old age will buy Vitae Ore of you and give it a fair trial, I remain, thankfully yours for putting me on to this remedy.

JAMES LACY.

I can vouch for every word Mr. Lacy says in the above. I am his wife and bought the medicine of Mr. Cooper for him, though I did not have much faith in it, because we had tried so many things that did no good. I have also used Vitae Ore, and am stronger and in better health than for years, which I attribute to its use.
